2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of preparation of separate financial statements

The separate financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Corporate Accounting System and applicable regulations on preparation and presentation of financial statements. The separate financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The accompanying separate financial statements are not intended to present the financial position and results of operations and cash flows in accordance with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in countries and jurisdictions other than Vietnam. The accounting principles and practices utilised in Vietnam may differ from those generally accepted in countries and jurisdictions other than Vietnam.

Additionally, the Company has also prepared consolidated financial statements in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Corporate Accounting System and applicable regulations on preparation and presentation of consolidated financial statements for the Company and its subsidiaries (together, "the Group"). In the consolidated financial statements, subsidiary undertakings – which are those companies over which the Group has the power to govern the financial and operating policies – have been fully consolidated.

Users of these separate financial statements should read them together with the consolidated financial statements of the Group for the period ended 30 September 2017 in order to obtain full information of the financial position and results of operations and cash flows of the Group as a whole.

2.2 Fiscal year

The Company's fiscal year is from 1 January to 31 December.

2.3 Currency

The separate financial statements are measured and presented in Vietnamese Dong ("VND").

Transactions arising in foreign currencies are translated at exchange rates ruling at the transaction dates. Foreign exchange differences arising from these transactions are recognised in the income statement.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the balance sheet date are respectively translated at the buying and selling exchange rates at the balance sheet date of the bank where the Company regularly trades. Foreign currencies deposited in bank at the balance sheet date are translated at the buying exchange rate of the bank where the Company opens the foreign currency accounts. Foreign exchange differences arising from these translations are recognised in the income statement.

2.4 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand, cash in banks, cash in transit, demand deposits and other short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less.

2.5 Trade receivables

Trade receivables are carried at the original invoice amount less an estimate made for doubtful receivables based on a review by the Board of Management of all outstanding amounts at the year end. Bad debts are written off when identified. In year, there was no balance of the short-term trade accounts receivable which was past due or not past due but impaired.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.6 Inventories

Properties acquired or being constructed for sale under the ordinary course of business, rather than to be held for rental or capital appreciation are recognised as inventories. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories includes land costs and construction costs of infrastructure and apartments, other direct and overhead expenses incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price less all estimated costs to completion and costs to be incurred in marketing, selling and distribution. Provision is made, where necessary, for obsolete, slow-moving, defective inventory items and where cost is higher than net realisable values.

2.7 Investments(a) Investments held-to-maturity

Investments held to maturity are investments which the Company's Board of Management has positive intention and ability to hold until maturity.

Investments held to maturity include term deposits. Those investments are accounted for at cost less provision.

Provision for diminution in value of investments held to maturity is made when there is evidence that part or the whole of the investment is uncollectible.

(b) Investment in subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all entities over which the Company has the power to govern the financial and operating policies generally accompanying a shareholding of more than one half of the voting rights. The existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible are considered when assessing whether the Company controls another entity.

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for at cost less provision for diminution in value. Provision for diminution in value is made when there is an impairment of the investments.

(c) Investments in associates

Associates are investments that the Company has significant influence but not control and would generally have from 20% to under 50% voting rights of the investee.

Investments in associates are accounted for at cost less provision for diminution in value. Provision for diminution in value is made when there is a reduction in value of the investments

(d) Investments in equity of other entities

Investments in equity of other entities are investments in equity instruments of other entities without controlling rights or co-controlling rights, or without significant influence over the investee. These investments are initially recorded at cost. Provision for diminution in value of these investments is made when the entities make losses, except when the loss was anticipated in their business plan before the date of investment.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.8 Fixed assetsTangible fixed assets and intangible fixed assets*

Fixed assets are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation/amortisation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the fixed assets.

Depreciation and amortisation

Fixed assets are depreciated and amortised using the straight-line method so as to write off the cost of the assets over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful lives of the assets are as follows:

Buildings	5 – 25 years
Machinery	3 – 7 years
Motor vehicles	4 – 8 years
Office equipment	3 – 8 years
Software and Trademark	2 – 7 years

Land use rights with indefinite useful life are recorded at historical cost and are not amortised.

Disposals

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing net disposal proceeds with the carrying amount and are recognised as income or expense in the income statement.

Construction in progress

Properties in the course of construction for production, rental or administrative purposes, or for purposes not yet determined, are carried at cost. Cost includes software deployment fee, design and construction of office and show house. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other fixed assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

2.9 Leased assets

Leases of property, plant and equipment where the lessor has transferred the ownership at the end of the lease period, and transferred substantially the risks and rewards, are classified as finance leases. Finance leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at the lower of the fair value of leased property or the present value of the minimum lease payments. Each lease payment is allocated between the liability and finance charges so as to achieve a constant rate on the finance balance outstanding. The corresponding rental obligations, net of finance charge, are included in long-term borrowings. The interest element of the finance cost is charged to the income statement over the lease period. The property, plant and equipment acquired under finance leasing contracts are depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the assets or the lease term. However, if there is reasonable certainty that the lessee will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, depreciation is calculated over the estimated useful life of the assets.

Leases where a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the income statement on a straight-line basis over the period of the lease.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.10 Investment properties

Cost of an investment property means the amount of cash or cash equivalents paid or the fair value of other consideration given to acquire the investment property at the time of its acquisition or completion of construction.

Depreciation

Investment properties for leasing are depreciated on the straight-line method to write off the cost of the assets over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful lives of the investment properties are as follows:

Buildings and structures	6 – 50 years

Land use rights with indefinite useful life are recorded at historical cost and are not amortised.

Disposals

Gains or losses on disposals are determined by comparing net disposal proceeds with the net book value and are recognised as income or expense in the income statement.

2.11 Prepaid expenses

Prepaid expenses include short-term and long-term prepayments on the balance sheet and are mainly prepaid selling expenses, bonds interest expenses and tools and equipment already put to use. Prepaid expenses are recorded at historical cost and allocated to expenses using the straight line method over the allocation period, except for selling expenses which are allocated to expenses on the basis of matching with revenue recorded when the Company has handed over significant risks and rewards of ownership to the buyers.

2.12 Payables

Classifications of payables are based on their nature.

Payables are reclassified into long-term and short-term payables on the balance sheet based on remaining period from the balance sheet date to the maturity date.

2.13 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the construction or production of any qualifying assets are capitalised during the period of time that is required to complete and prepare the asset for its intended use. Other borrowing costs are recognised in the income statement when incurred.

2.14 Borrowings and finance lease liabilities

Borrowings and finance lease liabilities with payment period of more than 12 months from the date of the financial statements are presented as long-term loans and finance lease liabilities. Borrowings and finance lease liabilities fall due for settlement within the next 12 months from the date of the financial statements are presented as short-term loans and finance lease liabilities. Borrowing expenses directly relate to the borrowings (other than payable interest), such as expenses for verification, audit, application... are recognised in the income statement when incurred. Where these expenses arise from borrowings for purposes of investment, construction or production of assets in progress, they shall be capitalised in accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 2.13.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.15 Accrued expenses

Accrued expenses include liabilities for goods and services received in the period but not yet paid due to pending invoice or insufficient records and documents. Accrued expenses are recorded as expenses in the reporting period.

2.16 Provisions

Provisions are recognised when: the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provision is not recognised for future operating losses.

Provisions are measured at the expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. If the time value of money is material, provision will be measured at the present value using a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the obligation. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognised as interest expenses.

2.17 Provisions for severance allowance

In accordance with Vietnamese labour laws, employees of the Company who have worked regularly for full 12 months or longer, are entitled to a severance allowance. The working period used for the calculation of severance allowance is the period during which the employee actually works for the Company less the period during which the employee participates in the unemployment insurance scheme in accordance with the labour regulations and the working period for which the employee has received severance allowance from the Company.

The severance allowance is accrued at the end of the reporting period on the basis that each employee is entitled to half of an average monthly salary for each working year. The average monthly salary used for calculating the severance allowance is the employee's average salary for the six-month period prior to the balance sheet date.

This allowance will be paid as a lump sum when the employees terminate their labour contracts in accordance with current regulations.

2.18 Unearned revenue

Unearned revenue mainly comprises the amounts that customers paid in advance for one or many accounting periods for asset leases. The Company records unearned revenue for the future obligations that the Company has to conduct.

2.19 Convertible bonds

Convertible bonds are bonds that may be converted into common shares of the same issuer under the conditions identified in the bond issuance plan.

At initial recognition, the Company calculates and determines separately the value of the debt component and equity component of convertible bonds using the effective interest rate method. The debt component of convertible bonds is recorded as a liability; equity component (share options) of convertible bonds is recorded as an owner's equity item. Subsequently, the Company regularly records bond interest using the effective interest rate. The costs of issuing convertible bonds are deducted to the bond's liability component and allocated to financial expenses/capitalised on straight line basis.

At maturity, the equity component which is a share option is transferred to the share premium account regardless whether the bond holder exercised the option or not.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.20 Share capital

Contributed capital of the shareholders is recorded according to actual amount contributed. Contributions from owners are recorded according to par value of the share.

Share premium is the difference between the par value and the issue price of shares and the difference between the repurchase price and re-issuing price of treasury shares.

Share conversion options on bonds is the value of the equity component of the convertible bonds at the reporting date. The value is defined as the difference between the total sums received from the issuance of convertible bonds and the value of the debt component of convertible bonds. At initial recognition, the value of share conversion options on bonds is recorded separately in owners' capital. At the bond maturity, this option is transferred to share premium.

Undistributed earnings record the Company's results (profit, loss) after business income tax at the reporting date.

2.21 Appropriation of net profit

Net profit after income tax could be distributed to owners/ shareholders after approval at General Meeting, and after appropriation to other funds in accordance with the Company's charter and Vietnamese regulations.

The bonus and welfare fund is appropriated from the Company's net profit and subject to shareholders' approval at the General Meeting.

2.22 Revenue recognition(a) Revenue from sale of real estate

Revenue from sale of real estate is recognised in the income statement when the real estate sale has been completed and the Company has handed over significant risks and rewards of ownership to the buyer. Revenue from the sale of real estate is recognised in the income statement when all five (5) following conditions are satisfied:

- The real estate has been completed, and the Company has transferred to the buyer the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the real estate;
- The Company no longer hold the right to manage the real estate as real estate's owner or the right to control the real estate;
- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- The Company has received or enables to receive economic benefits from the sale of the real estate; and
- The costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the real estate can be measured reliably.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.22 Revenue recognition (continued)*(b) Sale of services

Revenue from the sale of services is recognised in the income statement when the services are rendered, by reference to completion of the specific transaction assessed on the basis of the actual service provided as a proportion of the total services to be provided. Revenue from the sale of services is only recognised when all four (4) following conditions are satisfied:

- The amount of revenue can be measured reliably;
- It is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Company;
- The percentage of completion of the transaction at the balance sheet date can be measured reliably; and
- The costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the transaction can be measured reliably.

(c) Interest income

Interest income is recognised on an earned basis.

(d) Dividend income

Income from dividend is recognised when the Company has established the receiving right from investees.

2.23 Sales deductions

Sales deductions include trade discounts, sales returns and allowances. Sales deductions incurred in the same period with of the related sales of products, goods and services are recorded as deduction of revenue of that period.

Sales deductions for products, goods or services which are sold in the period but are incurred after the balance sheet date but before the issuance of the financial statements are recorded as deduction of revenue of the period.

2.24 Cost of sales

Cost of goods sold or cost of services are cost of finished goods, merchandises, materials sold or service provided during the period, and recorded on the basis of matching with revenue and on prudent concept.

2.25 Financial expenses

Finance expenses are expenses incurred in the period for financial activities including interest expenses, other borrowing related expenses and bond issuance expenses, losses incurred when selling foreign currencies, losses from foreign exchange differences and payment discounts.

2.26 Selling expenses

Selling expenses represent expenses that are incurred in the process of selling products, goods and providing services, which mainly include publicity, display, promotions, advertising expenses and sale commissions.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.27 General and administration expenses

General and administration expenses represent expenses for administrative purposes which mainly include salary expenses of administrative staffs (salaries, wages, allowances,...); social insurance, medical insurance, labour union fees, unemployment insurance of administrative staff, expenses of office materials, tools and supplies, outside services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, assets insurance, fire and explosive accidents insurance,...) and other cash expenses.

2.28 Current and deferred income tax

Income taxes include all income taxes which are based on taxable profits including profits generated from production and trading activities in other countries with which the Socialist Republic of Vietnam has not signed any double taxation agreement. Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and deferred tax expense.

Current income tax is the amount of income taxes payable or recoverable in respect of the current year taxable profits at the current year tax rates. Current and deferred tax should be recognised as an income or an expense and included in the profit or loss of the period, except to the extent that the tax arises from a transaction or event which is recognised, in the same or a different period, directly in equity.

Deferred income tax is provided in full, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the financial statements. Deferred income tax is not accounted for if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of occurrence affects neither the accounting nor the taxable profit or loss. Deferred income tax is determined at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the financial year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

2.29 Dividend distribution

Dividend of the Company is recognised as a liability in the Company's financial statements in the period in which the dividends are approved by the Company's General Meeting of Shareholders.

2.30 Related parties

Enterprises and individuals that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, or are controlled by, or are under common control with, the Company, including holding companies, subsidiaries and fellow subsidiaries are related parties of the Company. Associates and individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the enterprise, key management personnel, including directors of the Company and close members of the family of these individuals and companies associated with these individuals also constitute related parties.

In considering of the related party relationship, the Company considers the substance of the relationship not merely the legal form.

2 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)2.31 Segment reporting

A segment is a component which can be separated by the Company engaged in providing products or services (business segment), or providing products or services within a particular economic environment (geographical segment). Each segment is subject to risks and returns that are different from those of other segments. A reportable segment is the Company's business segment or the Company's geographical segment.

Segment reporting is prepared and presented in accordance with accounting policies applied to the preparation and presentation of the Company's financial statements in order to help users of financial statements understand and evaluate the Company's operations in a comprehensive way.

22 DEFERRED INCOME TAX

Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when the deferred income taxes relate to the same taxation authority. The offset amounts are as follows:

	30/09/2017 VND	31/12/2016 VND
Deferred income tax assets:
Deferred tax assets to be recovered after more than 12 months	975,873,572	975,873,572

The movement in the deferred income tax, taking into consideration the offsetting of balances within the same tax jurisdiction, is as follows:

	For the period ended
	30/09/2017 VND	31/12/2016 VND
Beginning of year	975,873,572	2,716,864,882
Income statement charge	-	(1,740,991,310)
End of year	975,873,572	975,873,572

The deferred income tax assets mainly arise from the temporary differences relating to depreciation of fixed assets, capitalised interest expense and accrual for other operating expenses. The Company uses tax rate of 20% in year 2017 (2016: 20%) for determining deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The Company's tax losses can be carried forward to offset against future taxable income for a maximum period of no more than five consecutive years from the year right after the year in which the loss was incurred. The actual amount of tax losses that can be carried forward is subject to review and approval of the tax authorities and may be different from the figures presented. The estimated amount of tax losses available for offset against the Company's future taxable income is:

Year of tax loss	Status of tax authorities' review	Tax loss incurred	Loss utilised	Tax loss carried forward
2016	Outstanding	195,175,938,590	-	195,175,938,590
